

Dear ‚P!nk‘,

how are you?

I read in the papers yesterday that you try to keep your kids away from I-Pads, tablets, electronics ...

I like that!!

In my eyes, it is not a restriction (as the newspaper reporter called it) but PROTECTION!!

The so called social media has way too many negative effects – especially for young people. So: You are doing your kids good!!

And I'd like to support you by showing you 3 things:

first: on the website www.goodrune.de you'll find a button ‚letters‘, when you click on it, a selection of PDF-files pops up, please choose the one named „Dear Mr. President“ on pages 10, 10.1, 10.2, and 11 in that document you'll find interesting facts about kids/screens etc. (growing up healthy in a world of digital media)

second: on the same website, when you choose the button ‚ART-phone‘ a text pops up that shows my opinion on smart-media;

when we allow kids younger than 14 years to use internet, we risk that the pictures they see deeply disturb them and harm their soul, their emotional development you'll find a cellphone that is way healthier: the ART-Phone third: here is a link to an article that was published in December 2020 by Barbara Koeppel in the Washington Spectator: „Wireless Hazards“

<https://washingtonspectator.org/wireless-hazards/>

it shows the hush up about health risks due to electromagnetic radiation from cell phones, tablets, and especially WiFi, etc.

way too few people know about it due to the immense power the mobile phone companies have;

it's another reason to protect our kids (and ourselves!) and keep radiation as low as possible by switching electronics on only when we really use and need them if you've got questions, please ask freely – I hope to be of help to you, and please: share your new knowledge with friends, family and colleagues – thank you so much for everything!

meaning well,

good rune
